

Program Leaders' Working Lunch at HERDSA 2011

A Program Leaders' Working Lunch will be held on Tuesday July 5 at the Radisson Resort Gold Coast as part of the HERDSA 2011 conference. This lunchtime session will be convened by Professor Kerri-Lee Krause and is designed to support the growing network of whole-of-program leaders across the sector.

Program leaders are recognised as pivotal to enhancing the quality of the student learning experience and have a vital role in the monitoring and assuring of standards and outcomes at the program level. The program leader role is attracting growing interest through the work of several experts in the field.

We invite those responsible for leading program design and delivery to bring their lunch along for an interactive session where you will:

- a) learn from Professor Fred D'Agostino (University of Queensland) about strategic approaches to program leadership;
- b) be part of the launch of a new suite of ALTC program leader resources; and
- c) meet with fellow travellers to share ideas and network.

We look forward to meeting you at this lunchtime gathering.
