

Reviewing for scholarly journals in higher education

HERDSA 2013: Pre-conference workshop from HERD Editorial Team

Barbara Grant, Mark Barrow & other members of HERD's editorial team

Reviewing manuscripts for scholarly journals is an important service contribution that active higher education researchers can make to our field. In this two-hour interactive workshop, members of HERD's editorial team will share some principles of effective reviewing practice from a reviewer perspective, as well as what makes for good and bad reviews from an editorial one. We will offer examples to illustrate the criteria of good reviews as we see them.